

Safe 'N' Clear

Clear Communication. Advanced Protection. Inc.

Safe'N'Clear, Inc, markets the world's first FDA approved surgical face mask with a clear window. The Communicator is the latest innovation in mask protection that not only meets FDA approval criteria for being used in the Operating Room, the surgical face mask with a clear window allows speech to not be as muffled as traditional masks. Less muffling means clearer communication which reduces medical error and improves patient outcomes. The Communicator stands out for its competitors by being a US-based company with US manufacturing from raw materials to finished assembly meeting quality assurance standards. We specialize in medical, dental, veterinary, and construction fields where having the ability to connect and communicate with others while mask protection is warranted. Be proactive; do not take chances with your health- wear mask protection.

Safe'N'Clear, Inc. works with hospitals, medical schools, dental practices, dental schools, veterinary clinics, and veterinary schools to foster connection and build rapport between healthcare provider and the patient. The Communicator adds clinical value with improving communication comprehension, reducing medical errors, reducing risk liability, improving healthcare dispensed producing better patient outcomes and improved patient satisfaction.

We market The Communicator via distributors all the way to end-users.
